

Margaret Freeman

Community Volunteer

With more than 20 years of dedicated nonprofit volunteer leadership, combined with her work in the for-profit sector, Meg has honed her organizational leadership and governance expertise.

She promotes and facilitates community connections through strategic planning, outreach program development, change management, process improvement, budgeting and fundraising, all with an eye towards measurable outcomes.

Meg earned her Bachelor's of Arts degree from Hollins University with a major in Psychology and minor in Education. She earned a Master's in Organizational Development and Leadership from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine Department of Psychology. She has training in Large Group Design, family systems, and group and systems dynamics.

Meg currently serves on the Board of Directors of the PA Home of the Sparrow, and the Leadership Youth Conference Committee for the Coatesville Youth Initiative. Since 2014, she has served as a member of the Grants Committee of Chester County Community Foundation.
