

Jeremy P. Wilson Foundation

Jeremy was a bright, beautiful and happy boy; a triplet with two sisters, Laurel and Claire. He was a very conscientious student who truly loved school, never wanting to miss a single day. Jeremy had many varied interests including Star Wars, building Legos, fishing, music, playing the cello, technology, and skiing. His favorite color was red. He was also a proud Boy Scout and was very dedicated to fund raising for his school, church and community.

On August 29, 2007, Jeremy, then age 10, was diagnosed with undifferentiated sarcoma of the liver. While he valiantly fought his cancer and continued to do the things he loved, sadly, Jeremy passed away on October 5, 2008 at the age of 11½, due to limited treatment options for this rare form of cancer. He has become an inspiration to many through his courage, determination and positive attitude.

The Wilson Family has created The Jeremy P. Wilson Foundation to honor the legacy of Jeremy's brief, but inspirational life. The Foundation is committed to honoring Jeremy's Love of Learning through a scholarship fund to enable other students to pursue higher education. In celebration of Jeremy's Love of Life, the Foundation also provides grants to promote childhood cancer research, giving other children better treatment options and Hope for a Cure.

YES, I would like to celebrate Jeremy's legacy with a tax deductible contribution of $ _____
