Bio

Chaya Scott, Chief Aspiration Officer, has an exceptional ability to encourage, motivate and inspire greatness in others which leads to improved service delivery, efficiencies and greater community impact. Chaya started consulting in 2001 working with mission-based and for-profit organizations and has eighteen years of experience in leadership roles, including the establishment and significant growth of two nonprofit organizations. In 2008, her career took a turn in a new direction when her services were retained by the Brandywine Health Foundation to design and lead a community planning process that resulted in a new, innovative youth development initiative serving the greater Coatesville community. After creating this initiative, Chaya became the founding Executive Director of the Coatesville Youth Initiative from 2009-2019. During her tenure, she was responsible for the organization's consistent achievement of its mission and financial objectives.

Most notably,

- Utilizing collective impact strategies to establish a new community-based organization strategically designed to align resources, services, and programs focused on youth ages 12-24.
- Securing and administrating multi-million dollar federal, state, and county government grants to sustain 40 partnerships and collaborations which emerged as a network of coordinated resources for youth and families in the greater Coatesville community.
- Managing more than 100 volunteers on 3 coalition boards to build consensus around a shared agenda and the implementation of a community plan to improve the quality of life for youth and families.

Currently, Chaya is an Adjunct Professor in the Master of Public Administration department at West Chester University instructing Master of Public Policy and Administration students in the Foundations of Nonprofit Management and Grant Writing courses, responsible for curriculum development and delivery to prepare the next generation of leaders and decision-makers to make an impactful and meaningful contribution to the world. Chaya has a Master's degree in Organizational Leadership from Immaculata University and has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Public Relations (Magna Cum Laude) from Temple University.
