Proposal Summary: This proposal is to secure funding for a comprehensive campaign of marketing/fundraising/friendraising that will purchase items identifying the Laundromat Library League and establish a "brand". It will focus on Chester County, our origin and then expand to our other areas (at their expense). It will attract new volunteers and potentially help diversify the group leadership.

II. CHESTER COUNTY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION GRANT PROPOSAL NARRATIVE

Provide clear, concise information. 3 pages maximum.

Chester County Community Foundation Grant Proposal Submitted by the Laundromat Library League

History, goals, key achievements and distinctiveness:

The Laundromat Library League began with a conversation over the dinner table in 2014 between our two founders, Arlene Rengert and Karen Iocobucci. Within a few days of networking, the organization had a name, the promise of space for inventory maintenance in the West Chester Friends School, the offer of a supply of books from a Downingtown area school librarian and the permission to place a box of books in the first laundromat.

This informal group continued until 2016 when it established a board, added the first “out of the area” site in Lancaster, PA and began to standardize the content of the little libraries in area laundromats. In the Fall of 2016, the Laundromat Library incorporated into a 501©(3) public charity and began an outreach program to garner donations of monies and books to accommodate growing needs.

The concept of placing books in laundromats where children, and especially children from lower income families, have time to spend has resonated with groups across the country and the organization has grown to over 200 sites in over 20 states with 700 volunteers. However, the Laundromat Library League began in Chester County and continues to grow and thrive in this area. We serve over forty facilities within Chester County, placing nearly 2500 books into the hands of children who would otherwise not have that resource.

Our main goal is simple: Put children’s books in the hands of children. In a broader sense, we are promoting literacy and to a lesser extent, numeracy. We provide an outlet for the volunteer spirit that is very much a part of the fabric of Chester County and also serve as a multi- generational organization with volunteers including senior citizens, students from elementary to college aged, “mom’s” groups and others. We often state our age range runs from about 7 years old to 88.

Key Achievements

Our main achievements have been in expanding the size of the organization to what it is today, all with no paid staff. Today we have sites in 30 states, have over 600 volunteers and have distributed well over 30,000 books. While national in scope, our board and main focus remains in Chester County where we have a disparity of wealth but are able to balance the opportunity by engaging some of the poorest residents with the assistance of some of the more economically privileged.

Distinctiveness

While there are “Little Libraries” in the county, book drives and other literacy initiatives, the Laundromat Library League is the only venture that targets locations where lower income families tend to spend significant time together outside the home. By encouraging the taking of the books and regular resupply, we extend the reach of the materials we collect.

Funding Request

Key Initiatives and Issues addressed

While the organization of the Laundromat Library League has the basic identification, it would be advantageous to establish more of a “brand”. This grant would allow us to move forward in that area by having items used in our program be identifiable as ours (i.e. bags), Sites identified as being in our group (i.e. Window Decals) and our own members identified when delivering or picking up items (i.e. Door signage). Awareness of the organization could also be expanded through our social media and also contests for developing a logo or flyer to promote events (such as Read Across America). These initiatives will give the organization more visibility and identification.

Specific Needs

Branded materials that identify the organization:

Window decals (50, @ $225)

Bags for books with logo (Totes, 150, $225 Backpack style, 100 @ $225)

Car door signs ($100)

Promoted ads on social media ($150)

Certificate papers ($25)

Honoraria for Logo contest and budget audit: $100

Why fund now?

Coming out of the pandemic, more laundromats are opening and adding in our books. We will be fundraising in the near future and a stronger identity will encourage more people to contribute. It is also to direct all funds that are raised from individual donors to actual purchase of reading materials and not advertising or administrative needs.

Impact and Results Demonstrated

Our Strategic Plan (attached) contains some of the planned results information, which include the following:

Increased traffic (clicks, ‘likes’, shares, etc.) on social media sites. A goal of 20% increase is suggested.

Add New board members/ex officio members to the roster, especially targeting underrepresented groups (e.g. age, ethnicity) either through recruitment or promotion from volunteer corps.

Increase in funds. 20% increase is the goal.

We also hope to “friend raise” through the increased visibility of the Laundromat Library within the Chester County area. We will review our current donors and organizations with which we partner and aim to increase those collaborations, either through sharing events, members or receiving resources (books, funds, materials)

The impact will be the introduction of new contributors (volunteers at all levels), increased exposure of the cause (children’s literacy) and an increase in funds from new sources. This impact will be determined by review of our contact listings and by our contributions.

Estimated costs for the promotional materials described above would be $1,200, but the amount is scalable both up and down. This number reflects the best number of items for the funds, using the standard price breaks from vendors (i.e. 5 signs are nearly as much as 12 when the setup charge is considered.) Competitive bids will be sought for materials.
