COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS

Join us on Zoom to engage in a conversation about immigration.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 2023 AT NOON

We are a nation of immigrants!

Our immigration conversation is broken -- here's how to have a better one
by Paul A. Kramer
THANKS TO OUR THOUGHT LEADERS

Mayra Castillo  (she/her)
Coordinator of Student Diversity & Inclusion
Cecil College

Debbie Bookman  (she/her)
Chester County Prothonotary

Lindsey Sweet, Esq.  (she/her)
Immigration Attorney
Sweet & Paciorek, LLC

Nancy Ayllon-Ramirez, Esq.  (she/her)
Immigration Attorney
Ayllon-Ramirez Law Firm

SCHEDULE

12  |  Welcome & Overview
12:05  |  Topic Overview
12:30  |  TED Talk
12:50  |  Breakout Rooms
THANKS TO OUR PROMO PARTNERS
A FEW HOUSEKEEPING NOTES

• Please be mindful and respectful to all.
• Some may have never have dealt with these topics before while others may have lived through traumatic experiences.
• Please mute yourself and turn off your video during the TED Talk video streaming.
• Feel free to eat your lunch while viewing the video.
• Please unmute yourself and turn on your video immediately after the TED Talk video streaming to encourage open dialogue.
DEFINING KEY TERMS

Xenophobia – Dislike of or prejudice against people from other countries

Nativist – The policy of protecting the interests of native-born or established inhabitants against those of immigrants

Immigrant – An individual seeking lawful permanent residence in a particular country

Global Inequality – The unequal distribution of material resources and income across countries

Naturalization – The legal act or process by which a non-citizen of a country may acquire citizenship or nationality of that country

United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) – Federal law enforcement agency under the Department of Homeland Security
What is an immigrant?

“Migrants choose to move in order to improve future prospects for themselves and their families.”

- Someone who chooses to resettle to another country
- Immigrants can seek legal residency and eventually citizenship, but that process is long and costly
- Many immigrants don’t have such legal status and are subject to “removal” or deportation

What is a refugee?

“Refugees have to move if they are to save their lives or preserve their freedom.”

- Someone who has been forced to flee their home country
- Refugees can apply for asylum in the US, a process that can take years
- Applicants have to prove that if they return to their home country, they’ll be injured because of their race, religion, nationality, political affiliation, etc.

What's the difference between immigrant and refugee? | CNN
Total immigrant population in U.S. (legal & illegal) hit 47.9 million in September 2022 — a record high in American history.

Immigrants from Latin American countries other than Mexico account for 60% of the increase in the foreign-born population since January 2021.

Immigration population in U.S. is now at 14.6% (1 in 7 people).

U.S. IMMIGRANT POPULATION

Largest Immigrant Groups in the United States | Source: USAGov

- MEXICO: 3,369,913
- INDIA: 1,110,537
- PHILIPPINES: 1,048,080
- CHINA: 943,838
- CUBA: 911,803
- DOMINICAN REPUBLIC: 822,568
- VIETNAM: 742,568
- SOUTH KOREA: 563,074
- EL SALVADOR: 501,832
- GUATEMALA: 359,842
- JAMAICA: 345,658
- CANADA: 310,267
- COLOMBIA: 284,032
- UNITED KINGDOM: 283,567
- HAITI: 280,752
- HONDURAS: 256,362
- GERMANY: 203,640
- NICARAGUA: 163,820
- PERU: 159,785
- ECUADOR: 155,178

TOTAL | 17,272,805
How many people in Chester County were born in another country?

The foreign-born population includes both non-citizens and naturalized citizens living in Chester County, Pennsylvania. It may include some Chester County residents who do not consider themselves true immigrants, such as students and expatriates from other countries. It does not include children with immigrant parents—many of whom were born on U.S. soil. The tiles below show a few basic statistics about Chester County that put the foreign-born population in context.

By the Numbers:

- 519.6k People
  - Total Population
  - 2015-2019
  - Chester County, PA

- 49.7k People
  - Foreign-Born Population
  - 2014-2018
  - Chester County, PA

- 22.4k People
  - Naturalized Citizens
  - 2015-2019
  - Chester County, PA

- 27.3k People
  - Non-Citizens
  - 2015-2019
  - Chester County, PA

As of 2020, 9.52% of Chester County, PA residents were born outside of the country.

Naturalization is the process through which an immigrant can become a U.S. citizen.

According to the Department of Homeland Security, in 2020 there were over 628,000 naturalizations granted.

Click here to learn more

Debbie Bookman, Prothonotary
201 W Market St, Suite 1425
West Chester, PA 19380
610-344-6300

$640 + $85 biometrics fee = $725 total

https://www.uscis.gov/n-400

HOW TO BECOME A CITIZEN

Determine if you are eligible
Have or obtain a green card. If you are a permanent resident, make sure you meet other citizenship requirements, such as language and history.

File your USCIS Form N-400
USCIS is The U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. It costs $640 to file an application and $85 as a biometrics fee. Attach a copy of your green card

$640 + $85 biometrics fee = $725 total

https://www.uscis.gov/n-400

Get fingerprinted
You will need to go through a background check, so you will receive a date and office to get fingerprinted

Attend citizenship interview
After getting background check passed, you will receive a date and time to meet with a USCIS officer for your interview

Attend oath ceremony
If approved for your interview, you will attend an oath ceremony where you will swear loyalty to the U.S.
Immigrants who want to become U.S. citizens face many barriers, including:

- Lack of information about the naturalization process
- High cost of citizenship
- Language barriers
- And much, much more

Reasons not applied for citizenship

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reason</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Limited English</td>
<td>31%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cost</td>
<td>21%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No time</td>
<td>13%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Not ready for exam</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t think necessary</td>
<td>9%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other</td>
<td>6%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t know how</td>
<td>3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Home country ties</td>
<td>1%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Will apply later</td>
<td>1%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Source: NALEO Educational Fund/LD LPR National Survey, 2013
Current U.S. immigration law is incredibly antiquated. There is a crucial need for comprehensive immigration reform as the human costs associated with these outdated and poorly considered immigration laws continue to mount.

- Post-9/11 has seen increased detainment and deportation of undocumented immigrants, and increased collaboration between federal, state, and local authorities.
- The DREAM Act, which provided a path to citizenship for children who arrived in the U.S. as minors, has failed to be approved by Congress for almost 20 years.
- Abused immigrant women and children have stopped seeking legal permanent residence status as immigration enforcement activities have intensified – the reduced applications for legal permanent status is driven primarily by fear of deportation or detention.

https://www.brookings.edu/opinions/outdated-immigration-laws-increase-violence-toward-women/
• Our immigration laws are exceptionally harsh in ways that frequently defy common sense.

• The notion that there is a “right way” to immigrate is just not true.

• Even if it was, our country has not always honored its own legal processes when immigrants are doing things “the right way.”

For example, U.S. treaty obligations prohibit the government from penalizing asylum seekers who arrive at the border without documents. But under President Trump, when Central American asylum seekers presented themselves to U.S. Border Patrol agents at the southern border in 2018 and 2019, as permitted by law, many were criminally prosecuted and thousands of parents were separated from their children.

• Long-time lawful permanent residents who have contact with the criminal legal system are often denied the chance to do things “the right way.” Criminal records, no matter how old or how minor are often a barrier to regularizing an immigrant’s status and remaining in the United States.

https://www.brennancenter.org/our-work/analysis-opinion/dehumanizing-work-immigration-law
Our immigration conversation is broken — here’s how to have a better one

By Paul A. Kramer

How did the US immigration debate get to be so divisive?
In this informative talk, historian and writer Paul A. Kramer shows how an "insider vs. outsider" framing has come to dominate the way people in the US talk about immigration -- and suggests a set of new questions that could reshape the conversation around whose life, rights and thriving matters.

“Nativists commit themselves to making stark distinctions between insiders and outsiders.”

“We were playing that game in part by envisioning that immigrants were outsiders, rather than people, that are already in important ways, on the inside.”

“I want to suggest that what we have to do is one of the hardest things that any society can do: to redraw the boundaries of who counts, of whose life, whose rights and whose thriving matters. We need to redraw the boundaries.”
COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS

Join us on Zoom to engage in a conversation about Rosa Parks and Black history.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2023 AT NOON

The real story of Rosa Parks -- and why we need to confront myths about Black history by David Ikard

DATE/TIME          TOPIC
January 17th 12-1pm Immigration
February 14th 12-1pm Black History
March 7th 12-1pm Food Access
April 18th 12-1pm Healthcare
May 16th 12-1pm Intersectionality
June 13th 12-1pm Black Wall Street

Register: ChesCoCF.org/explore/Food-for-Thought

(610) 696-8211 • chescocf.org
Brief Intros

• Who are you? What brought you to today’s Community Conversation?
• What did you want to learn? What have you learned?

Discussion Questions

• Why are we challenged by the arrival of immigrants in our country?
• How do existing policies make it harder for immigrants to defend themselves and easier for them to be exploited?