

Jennifer Ermilio Esq.

Jennifer Ermilio Meade is a Partner at Buckely Brion McGuire & Morris's trusts and estates practice group. Jennifer has been a practicing attorney for over twenty years and has transitioned her practice to trusts and estates in recent years. She is a graduate of The Dickinson School of Law of Penn State University and obtained an Estate Planning Certificate from Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law.

Jennifer engages in interactive estate planning to provide her clients with confidence and peace of mind for the future. She also helps clients through challenging times after a loved one has passed and assists estate executors and administrators with navigating their duties and responsibilities.

In her spare time, Jennifer likes to entertain family and friends, take long walks in nature, and travel.

Jennifer also dedicates her time and talents to the Community Foundation's Grants Committee, the Chester County Bar Association, and the Pennsylvania Bar Association. She is also a Law Relation Education volunteer.
